

Concert #3 by Beverly Taft on Sunday, 10 July 2022

Beverly, a Toronto based music teacher and performer has been a regular at the Friends of Meaford Library concerts since 2007. Her Meaford connection arises from childhood summer holiday visits to a favourite aunt who lived on Nelson Street. Beverly performs 20s, 30s, and 40s, big band vocals accompanied on the piano by her mother Marg. Her family conveniently uses her Meaford performance as an annual pilgrimage to the area to visit friends and relatives so, the connection to the region is strong. Her vocal stylings are unique and she intersperses tunes with brief histories and anecdotes from the era. She performs regularly in Toronto bistros and restaurant lounges in company with local jazz talent such as Tony Quarrington and San Murata and the Nathan Hiltz Orchestra. She has had touring engagements to France, England and Japan. If interested, one may experience some of her talent by visiting her web site at www.beverlytaft.com
